1. The licensee has failed to ensure that every alleged incident of sexual abuse that the licensee knows of or that is reported is immediately investigated.

On an identified date, Inspector #194 informed the Administrator and DOC that there was an alleged incident of sexual abuse anonymously reported to the MOHLTC involving Resident #01. Inspector #194 informed the DOC and Administrator that the inspector would return in three days to review the licensee's internal investigation allegations.

Upon return to the home three days later, Inspector #194 was informed by the Administrator that no investigation had been started.

-Administrator and Unit Manager informed inspector #194 that they would initiate the investigation. During this meeting, a discussion took place to identify potential residents at risk related to the allegations and Resident #02 was identified. Administrator stated that he "would provide an update in the investigation process to the inspector by the end of the day".

-At 16:00 hours, the Administrator and Unit Manager indicated that an RN, two RPN's and 4 PSW who work days had been interviewed, with no evidence to support any sexual abusive behaviour from Resident #01 had occurred. Inspector #194 was advised that when the inspector returned in two days that Resident #01 and Resident #02 would be interviewed as well as night staff on the resident's unit.

Upon return to the home two days later, Inspector #194 was met by Administrator and informed that Resident #01 and Resident #02 had not been interviewed.

-After the licensee's completion of their internal investigation seven days later, there is no evidence found by the MOHLTC Inspector or the Management of the home to support the allegation of sexual abuse involving Resident #01.

Resident #01 is known to wander outside during the night. This behaviour resulted in the intervention for an alerting device to be installed on the resident's door to alert staff if the resident had left the room at night, for safety.

The plan of care for Resident #01 directs: for the use of an altering device to be installed on the resident's door, to alert staff that the resident has left the room. Staff are to monitor the resident if the alerting system is activated.

In an interview with the Unit Manager it was confirmed that for a period of 17 days, Resident #01 was relocated to a different room and the alerting device was not in place.
