- (d) industrial washers and dryers are used for the washing and drying of all laundry. O. Reg. 79/10, s. 89 (1).

Findings/Faits saillants :

1. Inspector spoke with two different family members on October 26, 2011, who identified that they no longer have the home do the laundry of their family member because articles had gone missing and were not located.

Inspector spoke with three PSWs from two different home areas. Each PSW identified that they are not aware of a formal process to report missing clothing or articles. They all identified that they would search for the item and if the item was not found they would notify laundry and would check lost and found. Each PSW identified they would notify the following nursing shift as well to watch for the missing identified item.

Inspector spoke with a Registered Nurse who was unaware of a formal process related to missing articles but identified the laundry department and maybe even the Manager of Environmental Services would be notified if a missing article was identified.

Inspector spoke with a laundry aid who identified when she is made aware of a missing item she will write it down on a piece of paper in order to notify others (in the laundry department) and will search for the item. She identified that the home has a lost and found which she would also search for the missing item. The staff member identified that found items without names/labels are put into the lost and found so they can later be claimed.

Inspector spoke with the Manager of Environmental Services. It was identified to the inspector that items that are found without labels are put in the lost and found. He identified that he encourages families and residents at the care conferences to bring forward any concerns regarding missing clothing. He identified that when he is made aware of a missing item he will follow-up, checking laundry, the lost and found and the resident's home area if necessary. When the inspector asked what the process is if something is not found, he was uncertain and referred inspector to the Resident & Family Services Coordinator. He provided inspector with copies of procedures titled "Clothing Identification" and "Retrieval of Lost Articles". Both procedures identify what action is to be taken when an unlabeled item is found, however a procedure on the reporting of lost articles was not available.

Inspector spoke with the Resident and Family Services Coordinator, who identified that on occasions she has followed up with families about missing articles. She provided inspector with a copy of a handout that is provided to families upon admission that is titled "what you should know about laundry services in long term care homes". When asked if there was a formal process for reporting and tracking missing articles she confirmed that no formal procedure is in place. The licensee failed to ensure that procedures are developed and implemented to ensure that there is a process to report and locate residents' lost clothing and personal items.[O.Reg. 79/10, s.89(1)(a)(iv)]

Additional Required Actions:

VPC - pursuant to the Long-Term Care Homes Act, 2007, S.O. 2007, c.8, s.152(2) the licensee is hereby requested to prepare a written plan of correction for achieving compliance ensuring a process is developed and implemented to report and locate resident's lost clothing and personal items, to be implemented voluntarily.

Inspector spoke with two registered practical nurses on October 26, 2011 and one registered nurse at the home to determine what is done to meet the needs of residents exhibiting responsive behaviours. All three staff members identified that there are not any screening protocols or assessment tools used for residents exhibiting responsive behaviours. It was identified that registered staff will document any responsive behaviour within the progress notes for the particular resident however the home does not utilize any resident monitoring and internal reporting protocols. It was also identified that the resident would be referred to specialized resources if ordered by the physician however there is not a protocol in place to complete this process. The licensee failed to ensure that the required protocols are developed to meet the needs of residents with responsive behaviours. [O.Reg. 79/10, s.53(1)]
2. Inspector spoke with the Director of Care who identified that a responsive behaviour program has been initiated and will be developed and implemented in the near future, however the home does not currently have one in place. Inspector reviewed the current physician's orders for this resident and noted no current physician's order for this medication. Inspector reviewed the physician's orders and MARs with the RN on the unit. RN confirmed that currently there is not a physician's order and that it will have to be brought up to the physician. RN confirmed that the resident receives the medication as indicated on the MAR, and showed the inspector the strip pack which also contains the medication.
