NC#01 Written Notification pursuant to FLTCA, 2021, s. 154(1)1

Non-compliance with: O. Reg. 246/22 s. 102 (2)(b)

The licensee has failed to ensure that additional precautions and standards under the IPAC program were followed by staff, related to hand hygiene.

As per the Best Practices for Hand Hygiene in All Health Care Settings, 4th edition, issued April 2014, hand hygiene should be performed before initial patient/patient environment contact: Clean your hands when entering the room or cubicle and before touching the patient or any object or furniture in the patient's environment. This protects the patient and his/her environment from microorganisms carried on your hands from the hospital care environment (e.g., nursing station), other patients/environments, or from yourself.

Rationale and Summary

On a specified date, inspector observed in a common area a staff touched their mask and assisted two residents in wheelchairs with repositioning. The staff did not clean their hands before assisting both residents.
