1. The licensee failed to ensure that resident was reassessed and the plan of care reviewed and revised when the resident's care needs changed related to resident's ability to feed self when the following occurred:

The resident's nutritional plan of care states resident feeds self and requires set-up help only (i.e. cut-up meat, open cartons) for eating.

During lunch it was observed the resident had difficulty eating and required extensive assistance from the Personal Support Worker to eat.

In interviews with the Personal Support Workers, they confirmed for the past two weeks the resident requires extensive assistance with eating.

Record review revealed, resident had been experiencing difficulty with eating as resident discussed with staff.

During an interview, the Administrator and Director of Care confirmed their expectations that the resident be reassessed by the Occupational Therapist and the plan of care be reviewed and revised due to the change in resident's care needs related to resident's eating ability. [s. 6. (10) (b)]
